ASK THE EXPERT

What do you regard as the greatest success in your career to date?
 Hollub Homes is proud to be the only two-time winner of the Builders Association of South Florida's Best of Show award. We also feel privileged to have helped shape the South Florida landscape with our custom homes and communities over the last 60 years.

What do you like most about your job?
 It is exciting to understand our clients' points of view and make it happen for them. We have real connections with our clients, many of whom we've built or renovated multiple homes for over the years.

Is your work easily recognizable? Why or why not?
 When building a home, we want our clients and buyers to receive a one-of-a-kind home. However, we believe our legendary quality and finish work is recognizable and is what makes a Hollub home.

HOLLUB HOMES

A familial legacy in the making, the Hollubs have invested six decades into refining their craft. From custom private residences to speculative homes to large-scale renovations, the South Florida building and remodeling firm has carved a unique niche in the market where innovation and quality constantly surpass expectations. At its core, the award-winning company is rooted in building relationships, placing rapport, trust and open communication at the forefront of each project. "Hollub Homes is devoted to its tagline 'relationship built.' When building for a specific client, we are committed to providing the highest level of client service and a seamless, stress-free process," says Harry Hollub, the company's president and CEO. Harry, a second-generation builder, has a near lifetime of experience, with memories of shadowing his father on various job sites from the time he was a toddler. "I always knew I wanted to go into the family business," he shares. "I grew up on job sites, learning tricks of the trade. By age 6, I planted grass on the job sites and at 13, I performed carpentry and tarred roofs." The family-centered business was further complemented by the addition of Helene, Harry's sister and the principal and executive vice president of the company. Equipped with 30 years of design and home building experience, Helene is the visionary behind Hollub Homes' unique exterior and interior designs. "I embrace the challenge of creating something new with each and every project," she enthuses. "However, I am particularly excited about the modern aesthetic, complemented by organic materials to warm the home with a timeless sophistication. Of course, given my love of nature, I am drawn to organic and textural materials."
